The NASH Mentorship Program

Bridging the transition from a learner to a practitioner

The need for a mentorship Program

NASH recognizes

- The need to bridge the gap in the transition from being a student to a confident and competent practitioner
- A need to support each other as a professional community
- That we are not tapping into the wealth of knowledge and experience from our seasoned professionals
- The need to increase the number of successful RSHom practitioners

What is Mentorship ?

Mentorship is a relationship between two people where the mentor provides advice and guidance to their mentee to help them grow, learn, and develop professionally.

Mentorship is not:

- Supervision of cases
- About telling mentees what to do
- A short term commitment of just a few hours
